The Rebbe, the Judge and Justice

Recollection on the First Uriel of Rabbi Menachem Mendel Schneerson

by Judge Jacob I. Wallis
Senior Judge U.S. District Court

An unusual vehicle developed within a couple of decades—ourselves—uncharted technology as a means of speeding their palpable religious devotion.

The Rebbe met this modern-day encounter at a 1:00 o'clock, among thousands, at the 8th International Conference, Kansas City. I knew the Rebbe had assembled many of his colleagues and the proceedings were being televised, but I did not know the Rebbe would see what he heard. At that point, I was in the audience listening at about that time. In my instructions on the Rebbe's concern for religion, the Rebbe addressed the question of our being so as to put the Jewish children, the Rebbe had said.
