Exciting news: starting this week students are able to sign up to eat together with up to six people at a table/pod in Furman Dining Hall (the Caf). When signing up, you will be able to see who is already signed up for a specific table in order to facilitate friends enjoying meals together.

Please note, that if you choose to eat with a group and someone at the table tests positive for COVID-19, G-D forbid, everyone who ate together at that table with

have to exposure quarantine.

All other meal locations will remain set socially distanced as in past weeks.
